

Rena SHERESHEVSKAYA (Piano - Russia)

Russian pianist Rena Shereshevskaya studied music at the Tchaikovsky Higher Conservatory in Moscow. She then taught at the Central School of Music for Gifted Children at the Tchaikovsky Conservatory.

Today, in conjunction with a very active concert career, she is a piano teacher at the Ecole Normale de Musique de Paris and at the Conservatoire. She is also the author of several articles dealing with the question of musical education for gifted children.

Rena Shereshevskaya gives master classes all over the world, in France, the United States, Canada, Italy, China, Monaco..., and she serves as member or president of juries of several international competitions.

She is a teacher in high demand by professionals and her students include many winners of major international competitions: Rémi Geniet won the second prize at the Queen Elizabeth Competition of Belgium in 2013, Lucas Debargue won the fourth prize at the Tchaikovsky International Piano Competition in 2015 and more recently, Alexandre Kantorow was the first Frenchman to receive the first prize at the same prestigious competition in 2019.